Council Blows Me Off

My effort to get the Central New Jersey Council to stop using my pages without my permission is not going well. Recognizing that there is very little that can be done legally, Central New Jersey Council intends to simply ignore me.

What the people at Central New Jersey Council fail to realize is that the Web is an open community built upon trust, honesty, friendship, and respect. Breaking this relationship reveals a complete lack of common decency and a lack of ethical standards.

It is simply impossible for good people to be associated with such an organization. Which is why I will never donate money again to the Central New Jersey Council.

Over the past years, I have enjoyed working with many good, sincere people at Central New Jersey Council, but I have come to absolutely dispise some of the people currently at Central New Jersey Council.

How it Started
(Please go to http://www.cnjc-bsa.org/site/legal/bground.html)
A discussion of the background of this situation.

Where Do We Go From Here
I believed that I was doing something useful. It appears that I have expended considerable time, effort and expense in a wasted enterprise. I was wrong.

As a minor footnote: Central New Jersey Council refuses to give me my 25 Year Veteran's Award. How mean-spirited can you be?